

The national press

The printed press is available for free access at the Arsenal and/or at the Manufacture des Tabacs libraries

Online press is available on :

ut-capitole.fr>bibliothèques>Documentation>toutes nos ressources en ligne

Remote access is reserved for the Toulouse Capitole university community.

Le Monde

« Provide quality, accurate, verified and balanced information »

Editorial line : French general information media that reports on international, national, economic and cultural news. It preserves a total editorial independence. It is often close to center-left ideas.

Founder : Hubert Beuve-Méry in 1944

Open access : Arsenal and Manufacture des Tabacs libraries

Online access : Europresse (since 2001)

Business source ultimate et Regional business new (archives from march 2, 2006 to march 31, 2)

Website : <https://www.lemonde.fr/>

Les Echos

«The daily economy »

Editorial line : Newspaper that deals with French and international economic, financial and stock market news: it supports a liberal editorial line, close to the ideas of the right, which means that it is rather in favor of companies.

Founders : Robert brothers and Émile Servan-Schreiber in 1908

Open access : Arsenal and Manufacture des Tabacs libraries

Online access : Europresse (archives since 1991)

Website : <https://www.lesechos.fr/>

LE FIGARO

«Without the freedom to blame, there is no flattering praise».

Editorial line : national generalist daily newspaper, politically oriented to the right and close to the conservative current. This daily newspaper defends the values of classical liberalism and social conservatism.

Founders : Étienne Arago and Maurice Alhoy in 1826

Open access : Arsenal and Manufacture des Tabacs libraries

Online access : Europresse

Website : <https://www.lefigaro.fr/>

The national press

« Information is a fight »

Editorial line : generalist newspaper that deals mainly with international and national news, politics, society, economy and culture. Committed to the left, it belongs to a "liberal-libertarian" current since it defends values such as individual freedom.

Founders : Jean-Paul Sartre and Serge July in 1973

Open access : Arsenal and Manufacture des Tabacs libraries

Online access : Europresse (archives since 1995)

Website : <https://www.liberation.fr/>

« Let's share the economy »

Editorial line : daily newspaper that deals with economics, finance and national, regional and international news. It claims a liberal orientation. It defends an editorial line favorable to the market economy, open to the world and Europe.

Founder : Bruno Bertez in 1985

Online access : Europresse (archives since 1995)

Website : <https://www.latribune.fr/>

« A Christian view of current events »

Editorial line : daily newspaper of general and political information affirming a Christian and Catholic identity.

Founder : Congregation of Catholic religious of the Augustinians of the Assumption in 1833

Open access : Arsenal library

Online access : Europresse (archives since 1995)

Website : <https://www.la-croix.com/>

« An activist newspaper »

Editorial line : socialist newspaper of general information and opinion.

Initially close to socialism, as the organ of the French Section of the Workers' International, the newspaper became communist after the Tours Congress in 1920.

Founder : Jean Jaurès in 1904

Open access : Arsenal library

Online access : Europresse (archives since 1999)

Website : <https://www.humanite.fr/>